FROM THE PRESIDENT

That special month when we take time to give thanks is here. Wasn’t it just blazing hot? Were we not just basking in the sun’s rays... tops down, and loving every minute of it? The answer, of course, is yes! However, November offers beautiful crisp days, colorful vistas of fall colors, and even more PACE Club events.

Kicking off our November calendar is our Annual Breakfast meeting on November 9th. This information-packed event helps all members to hear—first-hand—what’s in store for next year and gives you a voice to elect new leadership. So, get it on your calendar and plan on joining us for a great breakfast, fellowship, and warm greetings from fellow PACE members. Check inside for the latest calendar of events or create an event of your own!
Registrations for B&B III are exceeding expectation. We are 76% FULL and counting. We have 49 Registration Forms in hand and 16 reservations at the Eden Resort. A total number of 65 cars. Remember we are guaranteeing anyone with an Eden reservation a spot at the event. Registrations for members of our own club are coming in slowly.

First and foremost, we need the support of as many PACE members as possible to make this event as successful as our past two B&B events.

We also respectfully ask that you send your event registration and fees as soon as possible. Might as well get it paid well in advance so you can forget about it and not panic next year!

Committees are working diligently on details and plans for the event and they are counting on the membership to join in. If you ever need a way to get involved in your club this is a great and rewarding way. There is never a lack of things to do.

Special information for PACE members:

In preparation for next B&B III, the Drive Committee is already working on the organized drives our club will lead. Therefore, we need members to volunteer as drive leaders and tails. So please, contact Bill Rimmler at wfr2@ptd.net.

For more event information, contact Sandy or I by dialing 717-795-4468, or by email at jsgolesh@hotmail.com

Take a look… Super-rare MX-5 Coupe

Originally appeared on Autoblog on Wednesday, 13 February 2019

It's somehow fascinating that one of the most interesting developments of the MX-5 Miata roadster is the one that isn't a roadster at all. Unlike the NC and ND generations with retractable power hardtops, the second-generation NB Miata got a special coupe version with a fixed roof, done in the style of the first-generation coupe concept. We're talking very limited production numbers: just 179 of these NB coupes were made, and they were all Japanese-market models, so it's not often that one gains much attention.
Itself even more of a limited-edition car, this sportier Type S version was residing in Hong Kong and was advertised for sale on Pistonheads is one of just 63 made. It’s right-hand-drive, as both its Japanese market origins and Hong Kong regulations dictate, and out of the available engine variations it comes with the 1840cc unit and a six-speed manual gearbox. What’s more, despite its low 30,000 miles, this 2004 fixed-roof Miata is said to fully overhauled and restored to as-new condition. We can’t imagine those coupe-specific parts such as glass and trim are easy to source, so with these extremely rare cars, it’s probably best to go with the best condition example you can find, if you can find one to begin with! Rust hits all old Miatas at some point.

With that backdrop, the $38,700 asking price doesn’t seem all that unreasonable. With the Miata’s enormous enthusiast base, there are now aftermarket solutions that imitate the flowing lines of the rare factory coupe, but they do lack the strengthening that Mazda’s specialty skunkworks shop put in these — and the body-stiffening roof adds a mere 22 pounds to the car’s dainty overall weight. For some lucky Miata hobbyist, this particular red coupe might be the crown jewel of their roadster collection!

Chili… still a hot topic!
You may have attended Carol and Brian’s annual chili cook-off just a few weekends back. If you did, I probably don’t need to say more. And if you did, you will no doubt have noticed that Carol and Brian are superb hosts. Always a wonderful event held in a beautiful wooded setting that surrounds their custom log cabin home, was a veritable smorgasbord of delicious chili recipes cooked up by our team of chefs—and a few others who like to challenge their skills and join in the fun. Last year’s winner was Brian and Carol’s neighbor, also named Brian. However, this year, the title was captured by long-standing PACE member, Sue Gresh. (cont’d on next page)
To carry on the chili-fever for just a few weeks longer, please try out the delicious Southern Chicken Chili recipe Marilyn and I brought home from North Carolina. (see below)

Southern Slow Cooker Cream Cheese Chicken Chili . . . by Jenny Yanchuleff, Raleigh, NC

Black beans, corn, Rotel, Ranch dressing mix, cumin, chili powder, onions, cream cheese and chicken. This chili is THE BEST! Everyone always raves about it. I love how simple it is. You can throw everything in a freezer bag and have a quick freezer meal later. We make this once a week during the cold weather months.

It is officially chili weather in North Carolina…brr. We usually do a traditional beef chili, but I saw this and decided to give it a try. One word - amazing!

It is made in the crockpot - my favorite preparation method. It only took 5 minutes to throw together before work. You could even mix it up the night before and just turn the crockpot on before heading out the door. The chili was delicious! We love it. It is even great reheated for lunch the next day.

PREP TIME: 5 MINS
COOK TIME: 6 hrs 5 mins

INGREDIENTS:
- 1 can black beans
- 1 can corn, undrained
- 1 can Rotel, undrained
- 1 (1-oz) package ranch dressing mix
- 1 tsp cumin
- 1 Tbsp chili powder
- 1 tsp onion powder
- 1 (8-oz) package light cream cheese
- 2 boneless, skinless chicken breasts
Southern Slow Cooker Cream Cheese Chicken Chili

How to:

Drain and rinse black beans. Place chicken at bottom of pot, then pour out whole can of corn (undrained), Rotel, and black beans. Top with seasonings and ranch mix. Stir together. Place cream cheese on top.

1. Cover with lid and cook on low for 6-8 hours. Stir cream cheese into chili. Use two (2) forks to shred chicken. Stir together and serve.
2. Can place all ingredients in a freezer bag and freeze for a quick freezer meal later.

Enjoy the Chili! RICK & MARILYN YANCHULEEFF

ABOUT PACE

Our Mission: To unite Central Pennsylvania Mazda Miata enthusiasts in a spirit of friendship and to enhance their enjoyment and knowledge of the Miata.

Our History: Back in 1992, Miatas were becoming numerous in the central PA area but there was no Miata club since the short-lived Keystone Club had disbanded.

Our founder, Dave Allen, decided to remedy that sad situation by traveling to the Miatas at Indy event in the summer of 1992 to obtain a charter for a new club from Miata Club of America.

Also at that Indy event were Bob and Jo Bookwalter along with Julie Swope and three Miatas (one red, one white, one blue) that formed the nucleus of the new club. That summer, more Miata-crazed individuals joined the club and after a few local drives—in October of that year—PACE took its first run to the Skyline Drive in Shenandoah National Park, VA. PACE membership has continued to grow through the years from this small group to almost one hundred Miatas—and their occupants.

Since then, PACE has explored most of the great and many twisty country roads in our area and has run trips to various other parts of the country from Ocean City, MD, west to Utah, and from Charleston, SC, north to Nova Scotia. Our events have ranged from scenic drives, picnics and dinners to autocross and performance driving schools.
